Develop an understanding of fundamental behavior management principles so that you can make effective decisions and take appropriate actions to help students learn to behave responsibly.

Task 3: Prepare Your Classroom Management Plan	40
---	-----------

Understand how to use your Classroom Management Plan to summarize important information, policies, and procedures you will use to motivate students and address appropriate and inappropriate behavior.

SECTION TWO

Preparing: Build Your STOIC Classroom Management Plan	51
--	-----------

CHAPTER 2

Structure for Success—Behavioral Decisions	53
---	-----------

Task 1: Develop and Display Guidelines for Success	55
---	-----------

Develop and plan to actively share guidelines that describe the basic attitudes, traits, and behaviors that will help your students be successful in your classroom and throughout their lives.

Task 2: Develop and Display Classroom Rules	60
Develop a plan for designing and then posting three to six specific classroom rules that will be used as the basis for establishing overarching expectations about behavior and for implementing corrective consequences for misbehavior.
Task 3: Design a Positive Physical Space	65
Arrange the physical space in your classroom so that it promotes positive teacher-student and student-student interactions and reduces the possibility of disruptions.
Task 4: Select an Attention Signal	75
Decide on a signal you can use to get students' attention in any setting. Teach them to respond by focusing on you and maintaining complete silence.
Task 5: Design Effective Beginning and Ending Routines	77
Design effective procedures for beginning and ending the school day or class period.
Task 6: Design Procedures for Managing Common Transitions	89
Define clear behavioral expectations for all common transitions that occur within your class.
Task 7: Prepare for Common Areas and Special Circumstances	101
Identify expectations for student behavior in all common areas and for circumstances like assemblies and substitutes.
Task 8: Establish and Maintain Family Contact	104
Build positive relationships with your students' families by making initial contact with them at the beginning of the year and maintaining regular contact throughout the year.
CHAPTER 3
Structure for Success—Instructional Decisions	115
Task 1: Establish an Efficient Daily Schedule	116
Arrange or modify your daily schedule to maximize instructional time and responsible behavior and minimize wasted time and irresponsible behavior.
Task 2: Clarify Expectations for the Common Instructional Activities That Occur in Your Classroom	121
Establish effective procedures for the major instructional activities that occur within your classroom, including teacher-directed instruction, partner work periods, cooperative group work, and independent work periods.
Task 3: Design Procedures for Managing Teacher-Directed Activities	132
Establish effective procedures for teacher-directed instructional activities.
Task 4: Design Procedures for Managing Independent Work Periods	141
Establish effective procedures for facilitating independent work periods.

Task 5: Design Procedures for Managing Partner and Cooperative Group Work 146
Establish effective procedures for facilitating partner and cooperative group activities.

Task 6: Design Procedures for Managing Student Assignments 154
Determine how you will assign, monitor, and collect student work.

Task 7: Design Procedures for Managing Student Technology Use 164
Design efficient and effective procedures for when and how students use technology in the classroom, as well as clear procedures for when technology will not be used.

Task 8: Develop Long-Range Classroom Goals 172
Identify several major goals—instructional and behavioral—that you wish to accomplish with all of your students by the end of the year.

Task 9: Understand Considerations for Developing Effective Grading Practices 174
Learn about grading reforms and reflect on your current grading practices.

Task 10: Develop a Grading System That Creates a Relationship Between Student Effort, Growth, and Success 182
Design a grading system that aligns evaluation with course objectives.

CHAPTER 4

Teach Students to Meet Expectations 201

Task 1: Teach Your Guidelines for Success and Classroom Rules 203
Prepare to teach and reinforce your guidelines and rules to students at the beginning of the year.

Task 2: Prepare Visuals and Lessons to Communicate Your CHAMPS Expectations 209
Develop a preliminary plan and prepare lessons for teaching your CHAMPS expectations to students.

Task 3: Teach Behavioral and Social-Emotional Skills 219
Be prepared to teach behavioral and social-emotional skills that are essential for school and life success.

Task 4: Clarify Behavioral Expectations for Common Areas and Special Circumstances 226
Be prepared to teach your CHAMPS expectations for common areas. Also be prepared to teach expectations to any new students who enter your class and for any unique events that may occur.

Task 5: Clarify Behavioral Expectations With Parents and Guardians 233
Communicate with families about what their students will be learning and doing in your classroom.

CHAPTER 5

Observe—Use Data to Monitor and Adjust Your Management Plan	237
Task 1: Scan All Sections of the Classroom Continuously and Circulate Whenever Possible	238
While teaching, observe students for behaviors to praise and misbehaviors to correct.
Task 2: Understand Why and How to Use Data for Continuous Improvement in Your Classroom	241
Learn about the importance of using data in your classroom, the types of data you should collect, and how to feasibly incorporate data collection efforts into your teaching practice.
Task 3: Use Data Snapshots to Monitor and Adjust Your Management Plan	253
Develop a plan to collect and use data as part of an ongoing process of refining your Classroom Management Plan.

CHAPTER 6

Interact Positively—Build Positive Relationships and Provide Positive Feedback	257
Task 1: Strive to Provide a High Ratio of Positive Interactions	258
Plan to interact at least three times more often with each student when they are behaving appropriately than when they are misbehaving (that is, at least a 3:1 ratio).
Task 2: Build Positive Relationships With Students With Noncontingent Attention	264
Create a positive relationship with each student by using every opportunity possible to provide each student with noncontingent attention.
Task 3: Provide Positive Feedback With Contingent Attention	272
Give students a variety of positive feedback on their progress and success in meeting behavioral and academic goals.
Task 4: Provide Intermittent Celebrations	281
Periodically reward both individual students and the whole class with a celebration that acknowledges their progress and success in meeting behavioral and academic goals.
Task 5: Maintain a Positive Ratio of Interactions With Parents and Guardians ...	286
Plan to interact with families more often when students are behaving appropriately than when they are misbehaving.
Task 6: Maintain Positive Communication With Colleagues	288
Contribute to a positive staff environment by bringing positive communication skills to your interactions with colleagues.

CHAPTER 7

Interact Positively—Motivational Strategies and Systems 295Task 1: Understand Motivation 296

Learn about how motivation is a product of both how much a person wants rewards that accompany success and how much they expect to be successful.

Task 2: Use Non-Reward-Based Strategies to Increase Motivation and Responsible Behavior 301

Stimulate student interest and employ effective goal-setting strategies to encourage students to demonstrate responsible behavior.

Task 3: Effectively Employ One or More Classwide Reward Systems to Increase Motivation and Responsible Behavior 310

Classwide systems can increase student motivation to behave responsibly and strive toward goals.

CHAPTER 8

Correct Misbehavior Fluently 339Task 1: Maintain Positive Expectations 342

Ensure that you have, and that you convey, high positive expectations for the success of all your students.

Task 2: Provide Effective, Fluent Corrective Feedback 346

Any time you are working to correct or change behavior through corrective feedback, use principles for providing effective, fluent corrections.

Task 3: Develop a Menu of Corrective Consequences 353

Calmly implement corrective consequences when rules are violated.

Task 4: Know When (and When Not) to Use Disciplinary Referral 370

Identify which situations warrant sending students to the office and which you should handle in your own classroom. Know how to write an effective disciplinary referral.

Task 5: Use Supportive Communication With Parents Regarding Student Misbehavior 378

Communicate effectively with families when students misbehave and establish collaborative approaches with ongoing behavioral concerns.

Task 6: Move Toward Proactive Intervention Planning With Individual Students Who Display Chronic Misbehavior 381

For students with significant behavioral needs, modify your management plan and/or connect a student with additional intervention supports.

SECTION THREE

Implementing, Sustaining, and Refining Your Classroom Management Plan 393

CHAPTER 9

Launch 395

Task 1: Make Final Preparations for Day One 397

Finalize your Classroom Management Plan and make final preparations to ensure an orderly, respectful, and comfortable first day for you and your students.

Task 2: Implement Your Plan on Day One 407

Be prepared to implement strategies that allow you to make a great impression on your students on the first day of school.

Task 3: Implement Your Plan on Days 2 Through 20 (the First Four Weeks) 416

During the first month of school, continue to implement the three-step process for communicating expectations, and take the time to verify that your students understand what is expected of them.

Task 4: Begin CHAMPS Implementation Midyear 424

Adjust your approach for reading and implementing aspects of CHAMPS depending on the time of year you get started.

CHAPTER 10

Maintain a Cycle of Continuous Improvement 427

Task 1: Use Data to Monitor and Adjust Your Classroom Management Plan ... 428

Once or twice a month, use observation tools to collect data that can help you adjust your management plan.

Task 2: Maintain Awareness of Professionalism and Engage in Self-Care 457

A few times a year, self-assess your level of professionalism and whether you are providing adequate self-care to be at your best.

Task 3: Engage in Ongoing Learning and Professional Development 469

For continuous improvement, engage in opportunities to strengthen your knowledge and practice of effective classroom management.
