

I've got this zoo inside
of feelings big and small.

On certain days, I feel just one.
On some I feel them all.

The times I'm feeling CALM,
my sloth begins to smile.

It takes a breath and picks a branch
and hangs there for a while.

The times I'm feeling ANGRY,
my mighty lion roars.

It stomps and shouts and bares its teeth
and won't do any chores.

The times I'm feeling JEALOUS,
my jaguar starts to stalk.

With silent steps it tracks its prey
and listens as they talk.
