

Battleground #2: Land

- Zombies walk around land. They find places with lots of humans. They like hospitals. They like malls. They like cities. These are hot spots.
- Aliens fly in space. They land on ground. They learn to adapt to our air.

Battleground #3: Mountains

- Zombies would have a hard time walking up mountains. They would fall down a lot. They're better on flat land. They would trip over rocks.
- Aliens are used to being high in the air. Mountains have thin air. The thin air wouldn't bother aliens.

ARMED AND DANGEROUS: WEAPONS

Zombies: Zombies' best weapon is their teeth. They don't have working brains anymore. So, they don't think. Their jaw muscles have been turned off. They just bite all the time. A zombie bite is powerful. It's as strong as a trained attack dog's bite. This is over 3 times stronger than a normal human's bite. Zombies bite a lot. The flesh around their mouth is damaged. Most zombies only have teeth and jawbones left.

Aliens: A popular alien weapon is a ray gun. Ray guns fire beams. The beams are destructive energy. They look like light rays. They can be seen. They're hot. They cut things. They blow things up. They make things disappear. Ray guns make bright light. They make loud noises. They have different names. They've been called death rays, blasters, and zap guns. They're usually fastened on spaceships.
