

Not me! I can't sit in one place for very long. My body needs to move.

My hands need to be busy. I have a hard time listening only to my teacher. I used to find things on the floor or on the wall to touch and play with. Sometimes I would play with my shoelaces or touch other kids. My teacher used to say, "Arnie! Keep your hands to yourself, please." "Arnie! Sit still." Or "Arnie! Pay attention."

I wanted to listen to my teachers, but it's hard to listen to their directions when all I can hear is Mr. Brown's class playing "Buzz" next door.
