

Big wall climbers have to sleep on moveable ledges or hanging tents.

NAILED IT!

When Extreme Is Too Extreme!

A new form of extreme rock climbing is naked rock climbing. These climbers do not use ropes or safety equipment. They also don't wear clothes. Climbers like the experience of being naked. They say it captures the "true essence of the climbing spirit." They feel closer to nature. Naked rock climbing increases the difficulty level. Being naked means climbers have no protection or safety gear.

There was a war between the government and rebels. Rebels are lawbreakers.

Caldwell and his friends camped out. They used ledges, or shelves, on the mountain. They used tents. They were hundreds of feet in the air.
