

People will tell you what they think you should be,
Paths you should take, based on strengths they can see.

Maybe your mission is to make the world better?
The world needs your heart, so be a go-getter!

But what if that's not what YOU want to be?

Can you shape your own dreams for the you that YOU see?

“Hey—you look like a nurse, a pilot, a waiter.”

“You should play soccer or be an ice skater!”
